

Update is a monthly newsletter published to inform the public about developments at Tacoma Community College.
Volume II, No. 4 April 27, 1970

John H. Binns, attorney and member of the original TCC board, has been elected chairman by his fellow trustees. He replaces Mrs. Maxine Myers, chairman for the past year, whose term on the board expired in April. Binns is a Rhodes scholar, former regent at Washington State University, past member and president of the Tacoma school board, and graduate of Washington State University and Oxford.

New vice chairman of the TCC board is Robert Yamashita, Methodist minister and director of the Tacoma Community House, who was appointed to the TCC board in September of 1969. Departing board member, Mrs. Maxine Myers, was presented with a certificate by her fellow trustees "in deep appreciation of the three years of vigorous leadership that (she) gave to the college."

Donald E. Anderson, a Weyerhaeuser Company executive, was appointed to the TCC board by Governor Dan Evans this past month. Anderson received a Bachelor's degree from the University of Washington and a Master's in engineering from Oregon State University, where he taught for four years. He is district governor of Toastmasters International.

The TCC Foundation's revolving student loan fund passed the $1,000 mark this past month with a $650 donation from Dr. James S. Bethel, dean of the College of Forestry Resources at the University of Washington. Robert L. Delong, Foundation president and northwest regional director of public affairs for St. Regis, introduced Dr. Bethel at the Foundation's February meeting. The money had been left by the late Mrs. Ruth Bethel, Dr. Bethel's mother, to be used for education. Mrs. Bethel was superintendent of Pierce County schools and a member of the citizens' advisory group that created TCC.

A number of students are attending TCC with the help of scholarships. Dirk Lakin, 19, and Steve Czarnecki, 26, are recipients of Jakeman Memorial Scholarships. Mrs. Lloyd Jakeman and the TCC faculty contributed money for this year's scholarships. Mrs. Jakeman's late husband was a mathematics instructor at TCC.

Another TCC student, Ethyl Johnson, is attending TCC this year on a scholarship from the Contessas Club of Tacoma. The Contessas Club consists of Black business and professional women of the area. Ethyl Johnson is the third TCC student to be sponsored by the club. The Women of Rotary have awarded Mary A. Whitley a scholarship for next year. The scholarship is awarded annually to a Tacoma Community College student.

Charles Cline, TCC drama instructor, has received letters of thanks from children who attended the TCC production of "The Wayward Clocks." Sarah, a first grader, wrote: "I want to go to your school but my mother won't let me yet." Her sister Casey, a second grader, wrote that the two had attended the play for her birthday, "but I wood come for Christmas or Thanxgiving too." Casey abruptly concluded the letter with: "my hand is tired so I will quit."
