Christmas Ball Set for Dec. 23

The Red Room of the Sherwood Inn will be the location of the TCC Christmas Ball on Dec. 23., sponsored by the sophomore class. The ball will last from 9:30 to 12:30 with music provided by Art Dahl.

A new committee chairman for the Christmas Ball was added at the Nov. 9 sophomore class meeting. Jaime Grenier, general chairman, reported that Maryalis Clausen will be in charge of publicity and decorations for the event, along with the other committee chairmen chosen at the Nov. 2 meeting.

Students may sign up sometime within the next two weeks in 15-1 to attend the Christmas Ball. The tickets will be free and can be picked up two weeks before the ball. Students should try to have their names on the list before then in order to obtain their tickets. When students sign up they may also purchase tickets for pictures at the Christmas Ball which will be $2.50.

"Fern" Here Tonight

By Doug Jacques and Nils Olson

The Associated Women Students and the Pep Club of Tacoma Community College will be the co-sponsors of the dance and a light show tonight in the TCC gym with music provided by the "Magic Fern."

AWS To Choose Freshman Reps.

By Nils Olson

The Associated Women Students of Tacoma Community College will hold its final elections today in Bldg. 15-1 for eight freshman representatives to the AWS Cabinet.

Freshman women may vote from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Bldg. 15-1.

Those running for the representative position are Gail Bucceni, Carol Corbett, Josie Claudio, Carol Fjeran, Sue Hunt, Gwen Lang, Aida Pacquing, and Noweta Prout.

The eight candidates with the highest number of votes will represent the Freshman Class Women to AWS for 1967-68.

Opinion has it that the "Magic Fern" has played with top groups every weekend, for example the "Fern" played with the "Doors" at the Eagles in Seattle last weekend.

The dance will begin at 9 p.m. and last until midnight. Admission to the dance will be 50 cents for TCC students and $1.50 for other college students and their friends. Tickets will be sold at the gym door.

A light show will be staged by the Candlelight Amusement Company of Tacoma.

Co-chairman Margarite Ramos and Dan Fiorino invite all college students to come and bring a friend since this will be the "Magic Fern's" first appearance in Tacoma.

Registration to Begin Monday

EDITORIALS . . .

As this editor has had contact with members of the student government, Activities Council, the administration and the faculty of Tacoma Community College, it seems strange that all this authority has done nothing to preserve the quality of the $38,000 gymnasium floor.

The Activities Council, in conjunction with the Government of Associated Students of Tacoma Community College, has completely failed in their responsibility to preserve a new acquisition.

It is inconceivable that after the last two dances and the obvious damage to the gym floor that no one has made an attempt to see that no further damage would occur.

After the first dance it was rather obvious that some action should have been taken to protect the hardwood floor. I cannot understand why the student government or the Activities Council in planning dances did not impose strict regulations pertaining to the floor—specifically, no one being allowed on the floor with street shoes.

The administration has made a feeble attempt to solve the problem by refinishing the floor after every dance.

It seems ridiculous to this editor that people with any kind of authority have done nothing to save this once excellent floor while the average student who is supposed to have some kind of representation in student government comments that these dances should be sock dances without being asked.

If it is plain to the average student that this floor must be protected and the only way to protect it is to have sock dances, I would observe that student government and Activities Council had best "get on the stick" and form rules and enforce them in order to continue to provide a half decent playing court and dancing surface.

tween the "Saints" and "Soul Set." Admission will be $1 with activity card and $1.25 without.

A motion for the freshman class to sponsor a Valentine's Day dance Feb. 16 was tabled for the second time due to a lack of organization. A request was made by freshman class representative Lynn Harlass for each club to submit the names of one freshman and one sophomore girl and one other girl (freshman or sophomore) to her by Jan. 19 for the Valentine's Dance Sweetheart Court.

The by-laws passed out to AC members will be voted on at the next meeting.

Linda Anderson was elected by AC to represent them on the Audit Committee.

Boy! Do I ever hate to see Thanksgiving day arrive.

Businesses will be closing down and schools will be turning loose millions of bloodthirsty, maniac students for the annual ritual.

I get goose pimples just thinking of all the crazy people who will be running around buying tons of groceries and inviting friends over for a huge feast.

I don't know about the rest of you, but it really ruffles my feathers. I just can't see losing my head and getting stuffed over such a barbaric custom. Gobble, Gobble.

Freshman Amendments Pass

By Jim Hendershot

The freshman class of Tacoma Community College held their first organized meeting on Friday, Nov. 10.

The meeting, presided over by freshman class President Aaron Bobo, was called to vote upon four proposed amendments to the freshman constitution.

The first order of business was amending Article VIII, Section 2 so that a "quorum shall consist of 40 members of the freshman class." At the time the constitution read that "a quorum shall consist of five (5) per cent of the freshman class." This was passed by a majority vote.

Article IV, Section 4 was amended to read that "the president, vice president, secretary-treasurer and four representatives of this organization shall each serve from the first day following the final elections until the last day of the spring quarter." This is a change from the way it read, which was that the elected officers would take office on the first day of November.

Article V, Section 1B was amended to add the words "and responsibilities" to the section. The amended section now reads that "the vice president shall assume all the duties and responsibilities of the president in his absence. He shall further organize and promote social activities sponsored by the freshman class."

"This constitution may be amended by a simple majority of the freshman class present at the freshman class meeting" is how Article XII, Section 1 now reads after being amended from reading "this constitution may be amended by a simple majority of the freshman class."

A new section that was to be added to Article XII under Section 2, which stated that "amendments of the freshman class must be posted and announced two weeks in advance of meetings before voting can take place," was defeated.

In later action, President Aaron Bobo appointed James Hendershot to act as class parliamentarian.

TCC Sport Car Club Slates First Autocross for Nov. 26

By Mike Stork

Chevy owners are you tired of taking heat from those little sports car buffs? Then come out Nov. 26 and prove who's best.

The Sports Car Club will hold its first auto-cross on Sunday at 12 noon. The event will take place at the Tacoma Community College parking lot. All types of cars are encouraged to participate. An entrance fee of $1.50 will be charged to cover expenses.

Drivers should register no later than 11 a.m., giving enough time for a course walk-through and safety inspection. All cars entering must have a standard approved seat belt and proof of the car's ability to come to a quick stop. The safety check will include a check of the tires, steering, and brake system.

Cars will be classified by Sports Car Club of America regulations.

The classification is made by engine size and car weight. Similar classes will be grouped if not enough cars show up to represent that class. The cars' classifications and numbers will be given at the time of inspection. American cars will be placed in a sedan class.

The course will begin from a dead start, with several hairpin turns, a crisscross, at least one 360° turn, and end with a complete stop within one car length.

Trophies will be awarded to all class winners, and there will be an award for the fastest overall time. There will also be an award from the club for the slowest time, and possibly a letter of commendation from the State Patrol for safe driving.

Later in the day, spectators will be allowed to mingle in the pits with the drivers, and observe the machines at close hand.

Titan basketball coach Don Moseid and his Tacoma Community College hoop squad are continuing preparation for their Dec. 8 opener. The young Tacoma squad will travel to Bellevue to begin the 1967-68 season.

The Dec. 8 issue of the Collegiate Challenge will cover the team and its coaches in depth along with the season's schedule.

On the Slopes

Winter Sports Club is preparing for the first ski fashion show of the year. It will take place Nov. 30, at 7:30 p.m., in the school gym. Whittaker's Challet will provide the ski wear and a ski film. Nils "miniskirt" Olson will head the AWS models.

Ski School

Cascade Ski School has organized an off-campus ski program for Tacoma Community College students.

Eight lessons with bus transportation will be offered for $46.80. This price is 10% off the regular rate and applies to groups of 30 persons or more. Lessons will take place once a week, beginning Sat., Jan. 6, at Snoqualmie Summit. The school is geared to teach all levels of skiers. For further information contact the on-campus representative, Marji Williams, at GR 2-1824, or the Ski Hut, at Highland Hill.

Freeman Says

Winter Sports Club President, Michael Freeman, has announced that all upcoming club news will be posted on campus.

Spokane Community College edged Shoreline by a narrow 48-56 margin to capture the state cross-country championship on November 11 at Shoreline. The Titan squad from Tacoma placed fourth in the meet while Highline took third.

Highline's Joe Baisch was the top performer on the 3 mile course as he covered the distance in 14 minutes, 55 seconds. Second place went to Herman Atkins of Shoreline.

Freshman Terry Rice led the Tacoma contingent to their fourth place showing with an eighth place finish. Rice ended the season as the number one performer on the squad.

TCC runner Jon Hayes also scrambled to a thirteenth place spot to place high in the finishers.

Other Titan competitors included Paul Hayes (26), Tim Bogh (31), Ed Miller (32), John Winkle (42) and Carl Lopez (46).

Head coach Ed Fisher of Tacoma praised the squad for their efforts in the meet which was their best showing in state action since the school began participating in the sport last year.

Biology instructor William Shapeero prepares fried squid as future homemakers look on.

Biology Lab. Eats Fried Squid

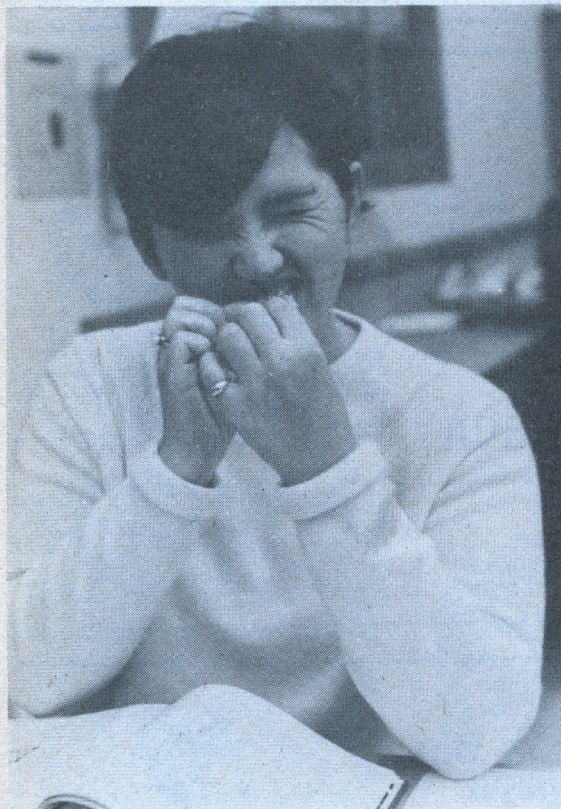

"I made squid chowder at home during the weekend," stated Mr. William Shapeero, biology instructor at Tacoma Community College. "However, my wife has hardly talked to me since."

This comment was made by Mr. Shapeero during a morning biology laboratory session while he prepared fried squid for his lab students. Mr. Shapeero explains the benefits of various seafoods that many people would not consider edible every year to his students and also demonstrates his culinary skills.

Marine biologist Shapeero invited the female portion of his class to observe him while he prepared the mid-morning snack. When he announced that "breakfast is served," all the observers immediately returned to their desks.

Shapeero explained that there are many ways to prepare the squid for consumption. The best way is to cook it fast over a hot fire. If it is cooked slow it becomes rubbery.

Mr. Richard Perkins, another biology instructor, happened in and commented that it would have tasted better if it had been "batter dipped." While Mr. Shapeero had his back turned, Mr. Perkins walked away with the last four pieces of fried squid and a bottle of catsup.

Sally Hoover said it wasn't bad, but she continued, "I don't think I'll make a habit of eating it."

"It was good," said Kris Berg as she nibbled the ocean delicacy while doing her lab assignment.
